Making the Most of Your Home

- Look at each room from a buyers prospective.
- Is the function or purpose of this room identifiable?
- Does the furniture placement show the rooms function or purpose?
- Does the furniture and its layout enhance the space?
- Is the scale of furnishings appropriate for the room?
- Are the colors in this room harmonious?
- Do the accessories and art in the room relate to the room and to each other?

This is part of what home staging is about, before you hire a home stager walk through your home and notice these things in each room.

Home staging shows function, style and purpose of each room and stages to attract what buyers in your market are looking for.

I have the talent and training to make your home outshine the competition.
